GRADUATION

29 OCTOBER

#GRADUATEATHOME

Message from Jackie Galbraith

Principal and Chief Executive

Graduation is a special day. A day devoted to recognising the excellent achievements of our students, and a day for reflecting on what contributed to your success.

Most of you have already used your qualification to move into work or onto further study at college or university. Whatever you are doing now, the skills and knowledge you acquired at college will be an excellent building block towards your future career.

We aim to enable everyone who comes to college to reach their full potential. Celebrating your success will inspire others to come to college, and I have no doubt that your achievement has already inspired others in your family, your community or your workplace. Everyone at West Lothian College is proud of your achievement and I hope you stay in touch with us. Please accept our very best wishes for a happy, fulfilling and successful future.

Message from Alex Linkston

Chair of the Board of Governors

I would like to congratulate all graduates on achieving your qualification. You worked hard and succeeded in a year like no other. Well done!

I would like to acknowledge all those who supported you during your studies — your lecturers, other college staff, your family and your friends. I would like to thank all the employers and organisations who support the college by providing work experience for students, donating equipment and giving us invaluable feedback to plan new qualifications.

Our Board members give up their time to support our college and I would like to thank them for that.

While there is a lot of uncertainty in the world at the moment, I am confident that you leave us with the skills and confidence to cope with that, and to take advantage of future opportunities. Celebrate, dream, and make the most of your education and skills!
